Money & Payments

- Cash is king: While credit cards are accepted in many hotels and larger shops, smaller restaurants, izakayas, and local vendors often prefer cash. We used a lot of coins at temples, shrines, games, drink machines, etc.
 - ATMs: Not all ATMs accept foreign cards, but you can reliably use those at 7-Eleven, Lawson, & FamilyMart
 - Currency: The Japanese Yen (¥). Bring some cash upon arrival, especially for taxis, temple donations, and rural areas. You can put in a request at your home bank ahead of time with 2-3 days notice.

Tipping Etiquette

- No tipping: Unlike in the U.S., tipping is not customary and can even be considered rude at meals, transfers, group experiences.
 - Tipping for Private Experiences: A cash tip is always appreciated for exceptional private guides or experiences. If you would like to leave a small tip (10-12% is fine) it needs to be handed to the guide directly in a small, clean envelope.
 - Service charge included: High-end restaurants or hotels may add a service fee automatically.

Weather in December

- Daytime Highs: Around 50–55°F
- Evening Lows: Around 35–40°F
- Rain: Minimal — December is among the driest months
- Sunset: Around 4:45–5:00 PM

What to Expect:

- Cool mornings and evenings, but mild days perfect for exploring temples, gardens, and city walks.
- Air is crisp and clean, with great visibility for photos.
- Occasional frost in Kyoto and the countryside, but rarely snow.

What to Pack:

- Warm layers — sweater, medium-to-heavy coat, scarf, and gloves for evenings.
 - Comfortable shoes with traction for temple paths and uneven streets.
 - Easy layers since indoor spaces are heated.

Cultural Norms

- Politeness: Bowing is the standard greeting. A slight head nod is fine for visitors.
- Shoes off: Always remove shoes before entering someone's home, traditional inns (ryokan), temples, and some restaurants. Look for slippers provided. Carry extra socks in your purse if you're wearing sandals
- Quiet in public: Keep conversations low on trains and buses; avoid phone calls.

- Respecting space: Stand to the side when on escalators to let others pass.
- Punctuality: Trains, tours, and reservations run on time—plan to arrive early.

▯ Public Transportation

- Trains & subways: The best way to get around. They are clean, efficient, and highly punctual.
- IC cards: Download the U.S. Suica app before departing and connect to your Apple Wallet for easy boarding.
- Etiquette: Line up to board, wait for passengers to exit first, and avoid eating on local trains (except on long-distance ones where food is common).

Ubers and Taxis

Uber works in Japan but is limited to larger cities like Tokyo, Osaka, and Kyoto. GO and JapanTaxi are the most popular local apps, both available in English. You can use them to request rides, track your driver, and pay by credit card. Taxis also accept cash, credit cards, or IC cards like Suica and Pasmo for contactless payment.

At many major train stations or hotels in Japan, you'll notice two taxi lines:

▯ Regular Taxi Line: These are standard taxis, and most drivers speak little or no English. They're perfectly fine for anyone to use. Non-Japanese travelers take them all the time. Just have your destination written in Japanese (your hotel concierge or Google Maps can help) or show the driver your phone map. GET IN THESE LINES IF YOU ARE COMFORTABLE WITH THE DRIVER NOT SPEAKING ENGLISH BECAUSE THEY MOVE SO MUCH FASTER

▯ Foreign-Friendly or English-Speaking Taxi Line: Some larger stations like Tokyo Station or Kyoto Station have a separate queue for taxis with English-speaking drivers. These are fewer in number and may take longer to arrive but are great if you want easier communication.

All taxis in Japan are safe, metered, and regulated. Even if your driver doesn't speak English, you'll still get a polite, efficient ride. Doors open automatically, tipping isn't expected, and payment by card or Suica is common in larger cities.

Suica Card

- Works on nearly all trains, subways, and buses in Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka, and most of Japan's major cities.
- Can also be used at convenience stores, vending machines, and even some restaurants.
- It's a stored-value (prepaid) card — you load money and tap in/out at train gates or to pay for small purchases.
- Perfect for short-distance city travel and everyday use.
- You can add it to Apple Wallet (via the U.S. Suica app) for easy tap-and-go access.

JR Pass (Japan Rail Pass)

- A multi-day pass that gives unlimited travel on JR-operated trains, including the Shinkansen (bullet trains) between cities like Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka, Hiroshima, etc.
- Must be purchased before arriving in Japan (for most visitors).
- Covers long-distance travel, but not all local subways or private rail lines within cities (like Tokyo Metro or Kyoto's city subway).
- Best for travelers moving between multiple regions — not necessary if you're staying in just one or two cities.

In short:

Use Suica for daily local transport within cities.

Use a JR Pass if you'll be traveling frequently between cities by train (like Tokyo → Kyoto → Osaka).

You can easily use both — Suica for local rides, JR Pass for the long-distance legs.

📌 Quick Tips for First-Timers

- Check your phone carrier pre-departure to make sure you have an international plan set up or download an e-sim
- Trash bins are rare—carry a small bag for your trash until you find one.
- Learn a few key phrases:
 - Hello = Konnichiwa
 - Thank you = Arigatou gozaimasu
 - Excuse me / sorry = Sumimasen

Must-Have Apps for Japan

- Google Maps – The go-to navigation tool for Japan. It shows train lines, platforms, fares, and walking routes with ease. WORKS SO MUCH BETTER THAN APPLE MAPS
- Google Translate – Essential for translating signs, menus, and conversations. Use the camera feature for real-time translations.
- Japan Travel by NAVITIME – Great for train and transit routes throughout Japan, including regional lines and longer journeys.
- Mobile Suica – A digital IC card app for seamless train travel and contactless payments (especially on iPhones).
- WHATSAPP – The primary messaging app used in Japan. Useful if you're in touch with local guides or need to communicate easily.

📌 Perfume & Cologne in Restaurants

- Fragrance-free dining: Many Japanese restaurants (especially high-end sushi counters and kaiseki dining) have an unspoken no-strong-fragrance policy.
- Why? Strong scents interfere with the delicate aromas and flavors of the cuisine, which chefs and diners take seriously.

📌 Popular Japanese Dishes to Try

Sushi (寿司) – Vinegared rice with seafood, egg, or vegetables. Includes nigiri, maki rolls, and sashimi (fish only).

Kaiseki (懐石) – A traditional multi-course fine dining meal showcasing seasonality and artistry.

Tempura (天ぷら) – Lightly battered, fried seafood or vegetables.

Ramen (ラーメン) – Wheat noodles in broth with toppings like pork, egg, and vegetables; many regional variations.

Udon (うどん) – Thick wheat noodles, served hot in broth or chilled.

Soba (蕎麦) – Thin buckwheat noodles, served hot or cold with dipping sauce.

Okonomiyaki (お好み焼き) – A savory cabbage pancake with toppings and sauce.

Takoyaki (たこ焼き) – Octopus-filled batter balls, a street food favorite.

Yakitori (焼き鳥) – Grilled chicken skewers, served in izakaya pubs.

Donburi (丼) – Rice bowls with toppings like beef (gyudon) or pork cutlet (katsudon).

Shabu-Shabu (しゃぶしゃぶ) – Hot pot dining with thinly sliced meats and vegetables cooked at the table.

Pre Departure Customs Forms

Digital submission (recommended)

- You can submit your Customs Declaration in advance through Visit Japan Web — this is now the preferred and fastest way.
- After submitting online, you'll receive a QR code to present at customs upon arrival.
- Benefits: Faster processing, shorter lines, no need to fill out a paper form on the plane.

About

It's about a 12-minute walk (or a free shuttle ride) from The Prince Park Tower Tokyo to the JR Yamanote Line at Hamamatsuchō Station. The vibe is a balance of calm, greenery, and cultural heritage, set against the backdrop of a vibrant, modern city—making it an ideal neighborhood for families who want both relaxation and excitement at their doorstep. Within the hotel itself, there's no shortage of dining and amenities. Guests can choose from elegant sushi, teppanyaki, and kaiseki restaurants, a classic steakhouse, and casual lounges with Tokyo Tower views. The hotel also offers a spa, fitness center, and wellness facilities, plus a Sky Lounge bar perfect for parents once the kids are settled. With so many options under one roof, it's easy to balance family convenience with a touch of luxury.

Every winter, Keyakizaka at Roppongi Hills is decorated with illuminations, with approximately 400 meters of tree-lined streets illuminated by about 900,000 LED lights.

Roppongi is an area rich with attractions for adults, including luxury brand shops, stylish restaurants, and art museums. The blue and white illuminations perfectly complement Roppongi's cool and sophisticated atmosphere. This is a recommended spot for couples or adult groups who want to enjoy a romantic atmosphere.

My most recommended viewpoint is the collaboration between the Keyakizaka illumination and Tokyo Tower. From the tree-lined street, Tokyo Tower can be beautifully seen between buildings, offering a stunning contrast of orange, blue, and white lights - a highlight of the Tokyo Illumination Event 2025 season.

MIDTOWN CHRISTMAS is a winter illumination event held at Tokyo Midtown in Roppongi, featuring one of the most captivating displays in the Tokyo Illumination Event 2025 lineup.

The highlight is the fantastical snow world expressed by approximately 240,000 lights and bubble decorations. The Christmas townscape glowing in champagne gold gradually transforms into a beautiful snowy landscape, expressed through sound and light. With snow and bubbles floating in the air, this is a special spot where you can enjoy the experience with all five senses.

A spot I especially recommend visiting is the approximately 4-meter-tall "Santa Tree" inside the Midtown building. It's decorated with about 1,600 Santa Claus ornaments, each with different expressions and designs that will make you want to look at each one individually.

Please try to find your favorite Santa Claus among the many varieties.

What to Do:

- Enter through Kaminarimon Gate (iconic red lantern).
 - Walk Nakamise Street for traditional snacks and souvenirs.
 - Explore Senso-ji, Tokyo's oldest Buddhist temple.
 - Try local treats like ningyo-yaki or matcha soft serve.
 - Optional: stroll toward the Sumida River or browse small artisan shops.

Suggestion: Lunch at Sushiro Asakusa Azumabashi

 Restaurant

Sushiro Asakusa Azumabashi is a popular conveyor-belt sushi restaurant located just a short walk from Asakusa Station, making it a convenient and relaxed stop for lunch before your afternoon tour. Set on the second floor of the Patria Azumabashi building, the restaurant offers a fun, casual dining experience with freshly prepared sushi plates circulating on the belt alongside an extensive menu of sides, ramen, tempura, and desserts—perfect for families or mixed groups. With quick service, approachable prices, and something for everyone, it's an ideal spot to enjoy a light yet satisfying meal while experiencing a quintessential part of modern Japanese dining culture.

Marunouchi Illumination is a traditional illumination event in the Marunouchi area that has continued for over 20 years.

The Marunouchi area is one of Japan's premier business districts, lined with modern office buildings. It's also famous as a fashionable district with luxury brand stores, stylish cafes, and restaurants.

Along the 1.2km main street "Marunouchi Naka-dori Street," approximately 286 street trees are decorated with champagne gold lights. The elegant and sophisticated atmosphere of this illumination perfectly matches the image of the Marunouchi area.

Marunouchi also features Meiji-era architecture and Tokyo Station, a red brick building restored to its original appearance. You can enjoy both retro scenery and futuristic high-rise building landscapes simultaneously.

Activity

Travel From Yayoi Kusama Museum → Harajuku

Total Time: ~20–25 minutes

Best Route (Easy + Direct):

1. Walk 5 minutes from the museum to Ushigome-yanagichō Station (Toei Oedo Line).
2. Take the Oedo Line toward Roppongi/Shinjuku.
3. Ride 9 minutes to Yoyogi Station.
4. Walk 10 minutes to Harajuku/Takeshita Street.
 - Follow signs toward Meiji Jingu / Harajuku as you exit Yoyogi.

Taxi Option: 12–15 minutes

Stroll Through Takeshita Street

- Famous for colorful shops, crepes, cute boutiques, and pop culture.
- Many shops stay open until 7–8 PM, so this is the best time to go.
- Great for photos under the Takeshita Street sign.
- You have to try the Cotton Candy!

Walk Cat Street (Shops + Cafés)

Enjoy a relaxed evening walk down Cat Street, the stylish pedestrian route linking Harajuku and Shibuya.

Why it's great at night:

- Trendy boutiques open later
- Ambient lighting
- Cool cafés, dessert shops, vintage stores
- Safe and very atmospheric

A perfect place to browse and enjoy the creative side of Tokyo.

Explore Omotesando (Lights, Boutiques, Shopping)

Walk from Cat Street to Omotesando, the elegant, tree-lined boulevard.

Evening Highlights:

- Beautiful lights along the avenue
- Luxury boutiques + Japanese designers
- Omotesando Hills (open late)
- Side streets full of cafés and small shops

Return to The Prince Park Tower Tokyo

Two Easy Options:

Option 1: Taxi (Best Choice at Night)

- 10–15 minutes
- Very convenient after walking and shopping
- Expect around ¥1,500–¥2,200

Option 2: Train

Total Time: ~20–25 minutes

1. Walk to Omotesando Station
2. Take the Tokyo Metro Hibiya Line → Kamiyacho Station
3. Walk 10 minutes to The Prince Park Tower Tokyo

Walk from station to Thousand Kyoto

 Transfer

For The Thousand Kyoto → Kyoto Station, you should walk, even with luggage.

Here's why:

- The hotel is only 2-3 minutes on foot from the station.
- The route is flat, smooth, and designed for rolling suitcases.
- A taxi would be unnecessary and slower because of one-way roads and traffic flow around the station.
- You can easily walk directly into the Shinkansen entrance from the street level.

Suggestion: Take taxi to Otagi Nenbutsu-ji

 Transfer

Getting There (from The Thousand Kyoto):

- Taxi (most direct):
~35-45 minutes depending on traffic (¥5,000-6,000 / $33-40).

Suggestion: Morning in Arashiyama – Temples, Old Streets & Bamboo Grove

Activity

Morning in Arashiyama – Temples, Old Streets & Bamboo Grove

Start: The Thousand Kyoto

Destination: Otagi Nenbutsu-ji Temple, Arashiyama

Begin your day with a visit to Otagi Nenbutsu-ji, a quiet hillside temple known for its hundreds of moss-covered stone statues—each carved with its own unique expression. It's one of Kyoto's most peaceful and often-overlooked temples.

Getting There (from The Thousand Kyoto):

- Taxi (most direct):
~35–45 minutes depending on traffic (¥5,000–6,000 / $33–40).

Option 1 – Early Start

If you leave the hotel by 8:00–8:30 AM, plan for lunch after visiting Otagi Nenbutsu-ji as you make your way downhill.

Lunch Stop:

Tsurezure Udon/Soba Shop

A small, traditional noodle house tucked near Nison-in Temple with simple Kyoto-style udon and soba dishes in a cozy wooden interior.

〒25 Saganisonin Monzen Ojoincho, Ukyo-Ku, Kyoto

☞ Ideal for a late morning/early lunch stop around 11:00–11:30 AM before continuing your walk toward Tenryu-ji and the Bamboo Grove.

Then continue downhill through Saga Toriimoto, Tenryu-ji Temple, and the Arashiyama Bamboo Grove.

Option 2 – Later Start

If you leave closer to 9:30–10:00 AM, visit Otagi Nenbutsu-ji, stroll downhill through Saga Toriimoto, and explore Tenryu-ji Temple and the Bamboo Grove first.

Lunch Stop (after Bamboo Grove):

☞ Pizzeria Mama

For a more Western-style lunch, end your walk at this cozy spot near Togetsukyo Bridge. It serves excellent wood-fired pizzas and pastas made with local Kyoto ingredients.

〒1-5 Arashiyama Nishiichikawacho, Nishikyo Ward, Kyoto 616-0003

☞ Perfect for a relaxed meal after exploring the grove—about a 5-minute walk from the south exit.

Suggestion: Arashiyama Rickshaw Experience

Location: Arashiyama, Kyoto
Provider: EBISUYA Rickshaw

Where You Can Start Your Rickshaw Ride

You can begin your ride from several convenient pick-up points:

1. Togetsukyo Bridge (Main Starting Point)
 - The most iconic spot with immediate access to river views
 - Easy to find, especially on busy days
 2. Arashiyama Bamboo Grove Entrances (North & South)
 - Ideal if you want photos and a peaceful ride through the bamboo forest
 - Great for avoiding crowds and accessing quieter paths
 3. Tenryu-ji Temple Gate
 - Perfect if you're touring the temple before or after
 - Quick access to preserved streets and scenic lanes
 4. JR Saga-Arashiyama Station Area
 - Convenient if arriving by train from Kyoto Station
 - Staff are often stationed here on weekends and holidays

Rickshaw Rates (EBISUYA Standard Pricing)

(Rates are per person unless noted; pricing can vary by season)

- 12–13 minutes:
¥5,000 per person
(¥10,000 for two people sharing one rickshaw)
- 30 minutes:
¥9,000 per person
(¥18,000 for two)
- 60 minutes (most popular):
¥17,500 per person
(¥35,000 for two)
- Custom Routes (75–120 minutes):
¥20,000–¥35,000 per person depending on distance and stops

Children:

- Kids under 6 can sometimes ride with a parent (depends on size/safety)
 - Older kids typically count as one person

What's Included

- Private rickshaw with a trained local guide
- Commentary on local history and culture
- Stops for photos
- Flexible pick-up and drop-off within Arashiyama

Walk to Station

Transfer

Recommended Departure Time Leave your room by: 1:00PM

Why 1:00 PM works

- The Thousand Kyoto is right next to Kyoto Station (2–3 minutes on foot).
 - You should be on the platform 10–15 minutes before departure to find your car number and board without rushing.
 - Leaving at 1:00 PM gives you:
 - Time to check out (if needed)
 - Walk to the central Shinkansen entrance
 - Go through the gates
 - Find your platform (usually Tracks 11–14 for Tokaido Shinkansen)

If You Prefer Extra Buffer Leave at 1:00 PM if:

- You're traveling with luggage
 - You want to buy snacks or bento
 - It's your first time navigating Kyoto Station

Quick Notes

- Shinkansen boarding closes right at departure time—the train leaves exactly at 1:54 PM.
 - Gates and platforms are well-marked, but the station is large, so a few extra minutes helps.

About

Set in the heart of Shinjuku’s skyscraper district, the Keio Plaza Hotel Tokyo combines international luxury with the dynamic energy of one of Tokyo’s busiest neighborhoods. The vibe is lively and cosmopolitan, yet the hotel itself feels like a welcoming retreat—airy, spacious, and designed to accommodate both business and leisure travelers.

The neighborhood around the hotel is one of the most exciting in Tokyo. From the front door, you can wander into Shinjuku’s neon-lit streets, explore endless shopping and dining, or visit cultural highlights like the Tokyo Metropolitan Government Building with its free observation decks. It’s also just a short stroll to Shinjuku Gyoen National Garden, a tranquil escape from the bustle.

In terms of convenience, the hotel is only about a 5–7 minute walk from JR Shinjuku Station, one of the largest hubs in Tokyo and a key stop on the JR Yamanote Line (the city’s tourist loop). This means direct, easy access to must-see neighborhoods like Shibuya, Harajuku, Ueno, and Tokyo Station.

Inside the hotel, you’ll find a wide array of restaurants and amenities. Dining spans from authentic Japanese kaiseki, sushi, and teppanyaki to Chinese and French cuisine, plus casual international options—over 10 restaurants and bars in total. The hotel also offers a seasonal rooftop Sky Pool, a 24-hour fitness room, spa and relaxation lounges, and elegant Club Lounge access for select room categories.

Shopping in Ginza - stores close at 6 pm but check each store for specific closures

The district boasts flagship stores of international high-end brands alongside esteemed Japanese department stores, such as Mitsukoshi and Ginza Six, which offer extensive gourmet food halls on their lower levels, providing an array of snacks, meals, and elegantly packaged edible gifts.

Stores to Visit:

- Multi-story stationery store: Ginza Itoya
- Flagship Muji
- Flagship Uniqlo
- Mitsukoshi: Despite being underground level, this department store has a very upscale foodhall (mostly take-out). B2 floor in Mitsukoshi is a famous one for desserts, pastries, bakeries, meals, $80 melon, etc. There's a nice rooftop garden area perfect for a mini picnic

Vintage Stores

- AMORE (in Shibuya)

Tax-Free Shopping

- Look For: Stores marked “Japan Tax-Free Shop.”
 - Minimum Spend: ¥5,000+ (before tax) in one day at the same store.
 - Bring Your Passport: Physical passport required at checkout—copies won't work.
 - How It Works: Most shops deduct the 10% tax right at the register or at a refund counter.
 - Consumables: Food, alcohol, cosmetics must stay sealed and unused until you leave Japan.
 - Departure: Keep purchase slips in your passport; immigration collects them when you exit.

NYE Suggestion: Oji Inari-Jinja Shrine Fox Parade

 Activity

Location

Venue: Shozoku Inari-jinja Shrine, 2-30-14 Oji, Tokyo, Japan

The Oji Inari-Jinja Shrine Fox Parade (狐火祭) is a unique Japanese New Year tradition held at Shozoku Inari-jinja Shrine in Tokyo. This centuries-old custom celebrates kitsune, or fox spirits, which are believed to be messengers of the Shinto deity Inari. The parade reflects Japan's deep-rooted Shinto beliefs and folklore, combining religious ritual with festive pageantry.

Fox parades like this one have been celebrated for generations, linking the spiritual significance of foxes with Hatsumode, the first shrine visit of the New Year. Participants dress as foxes in traditional attire, including kimonos and painted faces, while carrying out rituals that have been passed down through the years. The parade symbolizes purification, protection, and blessings for a prosperous new year.

Over time, the event has become both a cultural spectacle and a popular attraction for locals and tourists alike. While deeply spiritual in origin, it has grown to incorporate community participation, pre-parade rituals, and ceremonial offerings, making it one of Tokyo's most enchanting New Year events.

The Oji Inari-Jinja Shrine Fox Parade 2025-2026 takes place from late December 2025 to early January 2026, with the main parade occurring on midnight, January 1st, 2026. The procession starts at Shozoku Inari-jinja Shrine and makes its way to Oji Inari Shrine, covering a traditional route while participants perform rituals, chant prayers, and display their fox costumes.

Pre-parade activities, such as breaking of the sake barrel and ritual preparations, begin around 11:00 PM on December 31st. The parade itself typically reaches Oji Inari Shrine by 1:00–1:30 AM, where final blessings and prayers are offered. Spectators can enjoy the ceremonial procession, traditional attire, and unique cultural experience free of charge.
